ABOUT ME

I finished my Bachelor studies in the field of Informations systems and technologies at the University of Donja Gorica, in Montenegro.

During my studies i became familiar with a lot of different programing languages and different concepts. The one field which I focused most on was the development of Front-end applications, and Web Design in general.

I have also got to know the importance of good UI/UX design, and have taken the time to improve my skills in this field as well, since I feel that good design and pleasant user experience are an essential part of any project.
